

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INTRODUCTORY

The aim of this work is to give a complete index to the educational system of the United States and Canada. The information has been thoroughly revised and brought down to date, and before final printing of the book proofs submitted to the head of each institution for O. K., or correction.

In the main classification a complete list of the schools and colleges is given, together with information as to the kind of school, class of students admitted, religious denomination, year established, and the name of the head of the institution with title and degrees. The counter-classification will be found a ready reference for any particular class of schools. Any school may be instantly located by referring to the complete alphabetical lists. The Public School system is fully covered by complete lists of the State Educational Officials and county superintendents of schools. The lists of College Greek-Letter Fraternities, undergraduate publications, Foreign Universities, etc., have been added for the purpose of making the book a complete educational directory, containing information upon every subject pertaining to colleges and schools. It is believed the work will be found of value to every one in any way associated with educational institutions, or engaged in educational work.

Acknowledgment is made to the various State Superintendents of Public Instruction in this country, and to the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioners of Education of the Provinces of Canada, for their kind co-operation and assistance in compiling the information regarding the school systems; also to the editors of various fraternity and college papers for the assistance rendered by them in the departments of Greek-Letter Fraternities and college publications.

As a result, in two years every county has a local library in the court house, and there is a library for every 720 children in Kentucky and one book for every ten children.

School's announcement. — Eastman prepares for business, combining a good English education, with the technical instruction and practical work required for thorough training, and giving results, time, effort, and outlay considered, of far more value in every day life than those afforded in the universities and other institutions for "higher education." Among the best known, oldest, and most extensively patronized schools in America. About 50,000 graduates in business in all sections of the world earnestly attest the high character of the work done. No vacations. As instruction is largely individual, new students may begin work any week day. The school obtains employment for all graduates of its Complete Commercial Course. STATE READING CIRCLE BOARD.

North Carolina has no State Reading Circle Board, but her legislature makes generous provision for the building up of school libraries. A state law was passed in 1901, appropriating $5,000 from the state funds, to be paid out, ten dollars to every school district that would appropriate ten dollars, and whose citizens would contribute ten dollars. The appropriation was taken up in three months, and two thousand four hundred books were bought for the school libraries in that year. This appropriation is continued from year to year, and there are now over 1,800 libraries in the rural schools.

While Vermont has the town, and not the county, system of schools, the examiners of teachers perform many of the functions of county superintendents of other states. Aside from the examination and certification of teachers, their legal duties in connection with summer schools and institutes, appeals from school patrons, reports to the State Superintendent's office, records of teachers, their giving information and advice frequently sought by teachers and school officers, and their influential position combine to make them in effect county superintendents rather than examiners.

GENERAL EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM OF CANADA.

By the British North American act of 1867 the right to legislate on matters respecting education was left to the governments of the four provinces (Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick), which were then united under the general name of Dominion of Canada. The same right has been assured also to the Provinces that have since entered the confederation (Prince Edward Island, Manitoba, British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan).

The first system of public education organized in the provinces, that of Ontario, was distinctly a system under public or governmental control, and as such has been the model followed more or less closely by all the other Provinces excepting Quebec.

This system embodies features drawn from the school systems of New England and New York, but it differs from these especially by the larger provision for centralized control.

The educational systems of the respective provinces, and their colleges and other higher institutions of learning, are as follows:

ALBERTA

The members of the Executive Council shall constitute a Council of Public Instruction; the chief officer of education and ex-officio secretary of the council is the superintendent, appointed by the lieutenant-governor with the concurrence of the council. MANITOBA

The present school system of Manitoba was preceded by a system of separate schools for Roman Catholic and for Protestant children, the general administration of the schools being intrusted (law of 1871) to a board of education composed of an equal number of Protestant and of Catholic members.

Elementary and intermediate and high schools are maintained, and the latter may be developed into collegiate institutions preparing students for matriculation at the university.

The provincial university (University of Manitoba), incorporated in 1879, completes the educational system of the Province. The university was constituted as an examining body on the model of the old London University. But certain teaching institutions are affiliated to the university and have a representation in its council.

ONTARIO

Ontario maintains a comprehensive system of education extending from the kindergartens (introduced into the system in 1882, now numbering 139 with an enrollment of 14,160 pupils) to the provincial university, which derives its income ($340,662 in 1907) from the Province, and must report annually to the lieutenant-governor. The characteristic features of the system are the centralized control, securing uniformity of standards and school equipment throughout the Province; the very equitable regulations in regard to separate schools for Roman Catholic and for Protestant pupils, where desired; an excellent system of secondary education by means of the Collegiate Institutes, High and Continuation Schools; the provision for assuring the professional training of all teachers, and the close correlation of the several grades of schools by means of well-considered courses of study, uniform text-books, and examinations conducted by the central authority.

The apex of the system is the University of Toronto, which comprises the University College and ten other faculties and departments, namely, Law, Medicine, Arts, Agriculture, Pedagogy, Dentistry, Music, Pharmacy, Applied Science, and Engineering. The educational officers of the Province are as follows.

QUEBEC

The public school system of Quebec had its origin in parochial schools, which were fostered from the earliest settlement of the colony and which were recognized as the basis of the public system of education by a law of 1846. Peculiar difficulties were experienced in the development of the system because of the religious differences of the French and English populations. The former were adherents of the Roman Catholic Church and naturally resisted all efforts that threatened their relations with the religious schools of which they were staunch supporters. After a period of tentative efforts, a policy was adopted in 1875, which has proved satisfactory to the Roman Catholics, who form the vast majority of the population, while at the same time it affords protection for the rights of the Protestant minority. The system established provides for the separate control of Roman Catholic and Protestant schools without destroying their organic unity. The educational officers of the Province are as follows:

KAPPA SIGMA.

Founded at the University of Virginia, at Charlottesville, in 1867. Modeled after an ancient European secret order, the Kirjath Sepher, now extinct, which flourished in the University of Bologne near the close of the fourteenth century, its rituals embracing many of the forms and ceremonies of this ancient order.

The badge of the fraternity is a crescent of chased gold with its horns turned downward and holding suspended a five-pointed star, enameled in black and with a narrow border of white enamel and gold. Within the star are the fraternity letters encircled by jewels. The crescent displays at its widest part the skull and crossed bones, while on one side are crossed swords and on the other crossed keys. The fraternity colors are maroon, old gold and peacock blue; the flower, the lily-of-the-valley.

PHI KAPPA PSI.

Founded at Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa. (now united with Washington College in Washington and Jefferson College, Washington, Pa.), in February, 1852. The idea of the fraternity was conceived at the time of an epidemic of typhoid fever in the college, when day after day those who were not prostrated by the disease sat at the bedsides of their afflicted friends, ministering to them. The warm friendships engendered in this trying time ripened into the fraternal sentiment which made the foundation of the fraternity possible.

The badge of the fraternity is a shield of gold, displaying near its top an eye, on each side of which is a star; across the center of the shield are the fraternity letters and beneath is an antique lamp. The border is usually jeweled. The fraternity colors are pink and lavender.

FOREIGN UNIVERSITIES

The constantly increasing number of American graduate students and faculty members, who yearly seek doctorates to foreign universities makes it not inappropriate, in a book whose purpose is to furnish inquirers with a complete educational directory, to incorporate the following list of the leading foreign institutions. For much of the data herein contained the compilers are indebted to pamphlets and reports issued by foreign countries, to the Consular Reports of our consuls in various European ports, and to numerous other statistical works.

THE OXFORD COLLEGES.

The colleges of Oxford were an outgrowth of the halls or hostels systems of the early time—those little groups of scholars, often only four or five in number, who banded themselves together for mutual advantage, rented a little house or hut, chose their leader (finally known as principal), as a means to some sort of order, and then began their studies. After a while these became independent communities after the fashion of boarding houses, each governed by a master under authority of the university. Naturally they multiplied, and the colleges which supplanted them grew by degrees, with the help of many benefactions, until they numbered some fifteen during the Middle Ages, and now number over twenty, their order in time being as follows:

1. University College	1249-1280	9. All Souls College	1438
2. Balliol College	1261-1282	10. Magdalen College	1448
3. Merton College	1264	11. Brasenose College	1508

THE BEST IN ITS LINE

is a strong expression. But it is true of each of the books in this list. The High Schools and Colleges using these texts find them not only the best in their class, but distinctive in a marked degree. The general tone of opinion is expressed in these three comments:

J. P. ODELL, Instructor in Secondary English,
Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

KAVANA AND BEATTY'S COMPOSITION AND RHETORIC. "In my judgment, Kavana and Beatty's Composition and Rhetoric, in its department of education, is the really notable book of the opening century. It is a little short of pedagogical inspiration. The book at one bound attains to unity. It attains to more; it attains to interest. Its admirable method should be extended into college work."

W. L. GOBLE, Professor of Physics and Chemistry,
Elgin High School, Elgin, Ill.

LINEBARGER'S ELEMENTARY CHEMISTRY. "I like it. It is rich from the fact side, and facts are so presented as to lead to organized knowledge. It has more 'teachable chemistry' to the square inch than any other chemistry I know."

W. A. PEARSON, Instructor in Chemistry,
Ferris Summer School, Big Rapids, Mich.

LINEBARGER'S LABORATORY MANUAL. "I have used Linebarger's Chemistry Manual and could not ask for a better manual for general laboratory work. Both the Chemistry and the Manual are well worthy a place in the list of scientific text books."

NEW AND SUCCESSFUL BOOKS

BRANCH'S ENGINEERS' DESCRIPTIVE CHARTS, showing the Development of the Steam Engine, the Steam Boiler, and the Electric Generator, Price $1.00.

Isaac Pitman Shorthand

Holds Every Record for Speed and Accuracy

Exclusively adopted by the New York Board of Education and other leading cities

"THERE is always room at the top," is the old and true adage. But in the ladder that leads to attainment the perspective is reversed and the rungs became further apart as the top is reached. The poorly equipped will reach no higher than the level of their attainments, and so it is with shorthand writers and shorthand systems. The writer who chooses a poor system is far from the winner when the race is over.

THE OFFICIAL DAILY NEWSPAPER OF THE SUMMER ASSEMBLY
 HELD BY CHAUTAUQUA INSTITUTION AT CHAUTAUQUA, NEW YORK

THERE ARE between thirty and fifty thousand persons at Chautauqua during July and August either to listen to the Chautauqua Platform speakers, the best thinkers of the country, or to benefit by the summer schools which have an attendance of twenty-five hundred. This gathering of intellectually ambitious people with their families from all parts of the country offers exceptional opportunities to the enterprising preparatory school, college, or university. Here are gathered the young people who are to be the college men and women of next winter. Here are the parents who are casting around for a thoroughly reliable preparatory school or academy. Both classes are open to suggestion and the Chautauquan Daily, the official daily newspaper of the Assembly, reaches them all.

CATALOG DISTRIBUTION AT CHAUTAUQUA

CATALOGS and other literature of the better class of schools and colleges are kept on file at Chautauqua in a public place and attention is drawn constantly to this directory. Any inquirer is urged to select what interests him and take it away for more careful study. This plan has proved very effective in the past and it will become more effective each year. Space for catalogs and literature in this Chautauqua Educational Directory can be secured in only one way. The privilege is not sold but is given to advertisers in the Chautauquan Daily.

RATES:—50 cents per inch or 8½ cents per line with liberal discounts for time and space contracts. Further particulars will be gladly furnished upon request.
